The Tanka chair is a chair designed by Regular Company in solid wood characterised by its soft shape and lightness. The back legs connect to the backrest almost as if they were merging into each other. The chair has a simple structure, with a subtle curve of the back legs giving it elegance. The word tanka means 'thin' in Croatian, and this seemed to be the most appropriate name for such a light and playful looking chair. Available with wooden seat, upholstered in fabric or leather. The Artisan brand specializes in handcrafted solid wood furniture. It has over 50 years of experience and collaborates with the best local and global designers. Artisan uses only natural wood from renewable sources and uses only natural materials such as oils and beeswax for its treatment.
